

Station A

Document One

Document Two

What are your first impressions of this source?

Is this a primary or a secondary source?

Write a sentence describing this source and what it is. What specifically in the document makes you think that.

Read the description of the document. Now that you have more information about the source, what are your thoughts on it?

What other information do you need to understand this source better?

What are two questions you have after looking at this source?

Station B	Document Three	Document Four
What are your first impressions of this source?
When do you think was this document made? How can you tell?
What is this document showing you? Why do you think its creator made it?
Read the description of the document. Now that you have more information about the source, what are your thoughts on it?
What are two questions you have after looking at this source?

Station C	Document Five	Document Six
What are your first impressions of this source?
What is this document showing you? Why do you think its creator made it?
What does this image tell you about the slave trade? Think about what you already know and apply that to this image.
Read the description of the document. Now that you have more information about the source, what are your thoughts on it?
What are two questions you have after looking at this source?

Station D	Document Seven	Document Eight
What are your first impressions of this source?
Is this a primary source or secondary source?
What does this document tell you? Who's perspective is this written from?
Read the description of the document. Now that you have more information about the source, what are your thoughts on it?
What are two questions you have after looking at this source?		